15. Change of itinerary

While we endeavour to operate the tour as described we reserve the right to change the trip itinerary. The decisions of these tour leaders are final on all matters likely to affect the safety or well-being of any person participating in the trip. If you fail to comply with a decision made by a tour leader, or interfere with the well-being, safety or mobility of the group, the tour leaders may direct you to leave the trip immediately, with no right of refund. This includes being willing to wear a mask if requested, to protect the rest of the group and the communities we visit from transmission of infectious diseases such as flu or COVID-19. You must at all times comply with the laws, customs, foreign exchange and drug regulations of all countries visited, and you also agree to travel in accordance with our responsible travel guidelines.

17. Acceptance of risk

You acknowledge that the nature of the trip is adventurous and participation involves a degree of personal risk. You may be visiting places where the political, cultural and geographical attributes present dangers and physical challenges greater than those present in our daily lives. We use information from government foreign departments and reports from our own contacts in assessing whether the itinerary should operate. However it is also your own responsibility to acquaint yourself with all possible relevant travel information and the nature of your itinerary. You acknowledge that your decision to travel is made in light of consideration of this information and you accept that you are aware of the personal risks attendant upon such travel.
